Publication Agreement

Contributor Name:

Address:

Contribution:

Work (tentative title): Proceedings of the Artificial Life Conference 2018 (ALIFE 2018)

Editor: Takashi Ikegami, Nathaniel Virgo, Olaf Witkowski, Mizuki Oka, Reiji Suzuki and Hiroyuki Iizuka

Dear Contributor:

We are pleased to have the privilege of publishing your Contribution in the forthcoming Work identified above. This letter will state the terms of publication.

Rights Reserved: You retain and reserve for yourself a non-exclusive license: (1) to distribute the Contribution for use in your own teaching and research activities, and (2) to incorporate the Contribution in any full-length monograph you may write. Copyright in such monograph will be yours to exploit as you wish, but you will not authorize any use of the Contribution on a stand-alone basis unless it has been substantially rewritten from the version published in the Work and carries a different title. As a condition of reserving the preceding rights, you agree that MIT Press and the Work will be given first publication credit, in appropriate bibliographical form, and that proper copyright notice will be displayed whenever any such use occurs.

Grant of Rights: Subject to your reserved rights, you hereby grant to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT), acting through The MIT Press, all your right, title, and interest including copyright in and to the Contribution, throughout the world.

Multiple Authors: If there is more than one author of the Contribution, the word “you” includes all authors jointly and severally. Subject to the ultimate discretion of the Editor, your names will appear on the Contribution in the order in which you list them on your manuscript.

Compensation: You acknowledge that you will not receive any fee or royalty for the Contribution.

Warranties: You warrant that the Contribution has not been published before in any form, that you are its sole author(s), and generally that you have the right to make the grant you make to us. Any exceptions must be noted below. You also warrant that the Contribution does not libel anyone, invade anyone’s privacy, infringe anyone’s copyright, or otherwise violate any statutory or common law right of anyone. You agree to indemnify us against any claim or action alleging facts which, if true, constitute a breach of any of the foregoing warranties.

Reversion: You acknowledge that inclusion of the Contribution in the Work is subject to acceptance of your manuscript by the Editor, and acceptance of the Work by the MIT Press Editorial Board. If the Contribution is ultimately not accepted for inclusion in the Work, this Agreement will be null and void and all rights in the Contribution will revert to you. Also, if publication of the Work is cancelled, or if the Work ceases to be published under circumstances that cause the Editor's copyright to revert to the Editor, all rights in the Contribution will revert to you.

General: This is the entire agreement between you and us relating to the Contribution, and it may be modified only in writing. It will bind and benefit our respective successors in interest, including assignees, and our licensees, provided that you may not assign this Agreement without our prior written consent. It will be governed by the domestic laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

To signify your assent, please sign two clean, unmarked copies and send them to us.

Sincerely,

Amy Brand, PhD
Director
